

Community Based Disaster Risk Management

Community Based Disaster Risk Management is a process which contributes to enhance the capacities and reduce the vulnerabilities of vulnerable people in disaster affected areas.

CBDRM Process:

- Risk, vulnerabilities and capacity assessments
- Participatory planning and implementation of projects

Creation of awareness on DRR

Forming of Focus groups

Focus group discussion

Hazard mapping

Project planning and prioritization

Survey of project

Supervision of super passage

Construction of protection wall

Construction of protection wall

Construction of intake

Construction of flood way

Monitoring of intake project

Conducting of social audit

Conducting of social audit

Completion of protection wall

Duration: 2009-2011

Location: Samangan, Baghlan and Bamyan provinces

Budget: 500000 USD

Donors : SDC and Helvetas

Implementing partners : Community Development Councils (CDCs)

Number of beneficiaries: 50 CDCs up to end of 2010

Contact: Khalid.azami@helvetas.org